STANDARD INCH-WACKY i GUARD

The staple Inch Wacky, now with cover protection: The i-Guard model.

The single guard, made of shape-memory superelastic titanium wire, perfectly balances the stiffness needed to effortlessly avoid obstacles with the smooth flexibility that never interferes with your hooksets.It won't lose its tension even after repeated casts, always maintaining ideal performance. This i-Guard model allows you to aggressively fish cover without fear of snagging, expanding your strategic options with the Standard Inch Wacky.

■What is V-ZASHI?

V-ZASHI is a unique rigging method that securely holds the worm in both vertical and horizontal directions.

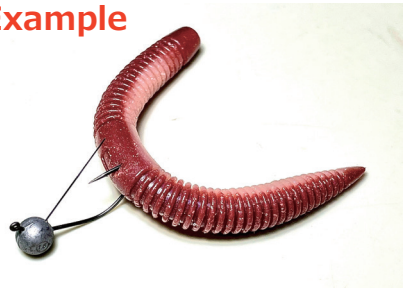

The sharply angled bend prevents the worm from slipping vertically, while the straight hook point section prevents lateral movement.This helps create a strong rolling action while reducing sideways tipping, resulting in sharper action and improved hook-up rates.
